

PHILOSOPHICAL CHALLENGES OF COMPUTATIONAL SOCIAL SCIENCE

Workshop organized by the group of Philosophy of Science, Université de Lausanne in cooperation with the group of Computational Social Science,
Eidgenössische Technische Hochschule Zürich

Friday, November 4th, 2022, 10h00-19h00 and Saturday, November 5th, 2022, 10h00-13h00
@ Université de Lausanne, Anthropole-5146

With presentations from guest speakers

Prof. Guido Hülsmann (Université d'Angers, Faculté de Droit, d'Économie et de Gestion) on “The economics of networks”

and

Prof. Carlo Lottieri (Università di Verona, Filosofia del diritto & Facoltà di Teologia di Lugano) on the “Knowledge and economy in the political regimes of effectively existing postmodernism”

Contact:

michael.heumann@unil.ch; tel.: +41 (0)77 447 78 18

PROGRAMME

UNIL/Ant-5146

Friday, November 4th, 2022

Morning Session (Chair: Christian Sachse)
10h00	Michael Esfeld (Université de Lausanne) Science and scientism
11h00	Carlo Lottieri (Unversità di Verona & Facoltà di Teologia di Lugano) Knowledge and economy in the political regimes of effectively existing postmodernism
12h00	Dino Carpentras (ETH Zürich) On asking the right questions in social science
13h00	Lunch @ UNIL

Afternoon Session, 1st part (Chair: Alin Cucu)
14h30	Guido Hülsmann (Université d'Angers) The economics of networks
15h30	Guillaume Köstner (Université de Lausanne) Algocracy, digital serfdom, platform economy
16h30	Coffee break @ UNIL/Ant
Afternoon Session, 2nd part (Chair: Alban Ridet)
17h00	Cesare Carissimo & Marcin Korecki (both ETH Zürich) Limits of optimization
18h00	Michael Heumann (Université de Lausanne) Computationalism debate in philosophy
19h00	Snacks @ UNIL/Ant

Saturday, November 5th, 2022

Morning Session (Chair: Amine Rusi)
10h00	Virginia Soro (Université de Lausanne) Digitalization and law
11h00	Cristian Lopez (Université de Lausanne) Who's afraid of high technology? A libertarian viewpoint
12h00	General discussion and wrap-up
13h00	Lunch @ UNIL